

Narberth-Pennac Takes Double-Header From Newtown Square

Walzermen Ring Up 20 Hits in 16-4 Win; Cop the Second 9-5.

MIKE TO HARROWGATE

By JOHN UBERTY
Narberth-Pennac, that destructive piece of baseball machinery with the incomparable Mulligan, of Lower Merion fame, threw another wrench into the powerful mechanism of Newtown Square, sole conquerors of Berwyn, western nemesis, to walk away with victories fore and aft while 600 thronged the playground to witness a double fracas which was to be the turning point for the home talent. On account of the devastating weather conditions which have hampered many league exhibitions for the past month, the Main Line Baseball Commission has ordered that Gladwyne and Oakmont, tailenders, be retired from further competition; and, with Bryn Mawr out of the race as a result of failure to perform on Saturday, the present league comprises Narberth and Berwyn, Newtown Square being eliminated when the Walzermen made their spectacular duplex win which awards them an opportunity to meet the Doyles Nursery lads. Should Narberth come through with a demoniacal triumph in this combat, which may break all records for attendance, they will have earned for themselves a tie and will meet the losers in a return battle to decide the second half. If Berwyn wins the first encounter this Saturday, then all hopes will have left the hearts of the local nine as well as the enthusiastic rooters.

From a personal interview with Danny Redman, Berwyn's baseball manager, the writer understands that the invaders expect to come fully "armed." By that he meant that he too could form "An All-American Nine" such as Narberth sends forth on the field of battle. The feature of Saturday's game was that same monotonous question which came forth from innumerable visiting and local fans alike. "Who is Newtown Square playing, Pennac?" soon became a merry tune and the Newtown Square lads would get into a huddle and harmoniously sing out the new anthem.

During the last few years of diamond exhibitions, zealous baseball addicts have witnessed the features of former High School Stars in their lineup. Many a scholastic star has vied for positions on the team which was widely known as the champions of the Main Line League and just as many were drastically turned down. But one stood in the spotlight for Manager Walzer, Captain Johnny (Mike) Mulligan of Lower Merion fame, was the outstanding Adonis who qualified of the most important positions in any baseball lineup. Mike, who played third base in his sophomore year at school, soon won praise as a star

PLAY BERWYN TOMORROW

This Saturday is the crucial game for the local nine with Berwyn. A win will mean a tie for the league leadership, which will necessitate a playoff. A loss means second place and no doubt about it. A new record for attendance may well be set judging by the interest local fans are showing in this contest.

GIVEN RADIO

The Narberth Fire Company was the recipient recently of a splendid Bosch eight-tube radio for its card room. The set was the gift of a member of the fire company whose identity is not revealed, in accordance with his wish. It is rumored that some members have gotten China already.

HOLD "NOVELTY DANCE"

An event described as an "Open Novelty Dance" will be held at Elm Hall next Tuesday evening, September 18th. The music will be furnished by Alma Neilson's Frivolity Five. As a special attraction there will be a vaudeville act by a Keith Circuit group. The dance will be for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Company.

TOURNEY PROGRESSES

Good Matches Seen at Narberth Tennis Club This Week.

The annual tournament at the Narberth Tennis Club has produced some exciting matches during the past week. Keenly contested was the match between Crone and Gibson, the former winning in three sets, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2. In another early round match Harold Lane, defending champion was extended to putout Carl B. Metzger, Jr. Lane took the first set and in the second the score was 3 all when young Metzger sprained his ankle, depriving him of an opportunity to even up the match. Howard Kairer, of the famous doubles team, Crone and Kairer, was eliminated by Herrshoff, the mighty forehand paster, 8-6, 6-2. McFadden, a possible finalist against Lane, defeated Winterbottom in the first round 6-2, 9-7. In the second round Bob Savill polished off the veteran Jack Wine, 6-1, 6-1; Tyson put out Crowley 6-2, 6-2; E. Davies defeated Feno 6-0, 6-1, and McFadden put out Hannum, the chop stroke artist 6-1, 6-4. McFadden was also the first to enter the fourth round, his third round victim being Savill, 6-0, 6-2.

All third round matches will be completed by this week-end, as a large number of them have to be played then due to the shortness of the evenings which prohibits any long matches.

TOMORROW IS DEADLINE

The Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold, requests that any tax bills received in duplicate be returned to him so that they may be checked off and prevent duplication on next year's lists which will be compiled after October 15. Today and tomorrow, September 14 and 15, are the last days to pay county taxes before the penalty is added.

The tax collector will be at the Narberth National Bank all day today and also this evening, and Saturday morning, from 8 A. M. to 12 noon to receive taxes.

ANNOUNCE FACULTY FOR SCHOOL TERM

Instructors on Hand Monday Numbered 205, Same as Last Year.

26 TEACHERS ARE NEW

When the Lower Merion public schools reopened Monday for the fall term, 26 new instructors were found in charge of classes. Superintendent S. Edgar Downs announced the names of the faculty of the township public elementary and high schools for the term 1928-29 at his office in Ardmore last week.

The year's staff will total 205 which is the same as that of last year. The four Ardmore schools will have the biggest group. At the Senior High School located on Montgomery pike at Ardmore, the staff will number 36. At the Junior High it will be 31, while Ardmore avenue will have a total of 25 which is just one less than the staff of the Ashland Heights School, the next biggest in the group.

League of Women Voters Hold Enthusiastic Meeting.

The Narberth League of Women Voters held a very enthusiastic meeting in the Community Building Monday, September 10, the speaker of the day being Edward F. Kane, chairman of the Democratic County Committee.

The high lights of his talk were Farm Conditions and Relief and National Waterways. Next month, following the League non-partisan policy, the Republican viewpoint will be presented by as able a representative as is possible to obtain. The League also wishes to remind its members and friends that it is planning another card party such as was staged in the spring at Strawbridge & Clothier's.

FIRST DRILL BRINGS OUT SQUAD OF 75

Lettermen Among Those Who Report for L. M. High Grid Practice.

ADAM GIVES BOYS TALK

Seventy-five boys reported for football practice at the Lower Merion High School field in Ardmore Tuesday afternoon to be on hand at the initial roll call of 1928. Coach Albert Adam put them through a loosening up exercise which lasted about an hour and a half. This squad contains about all of the boys who will be out for the team this year, a few still being at the seashore and other vacation playgrounds.

Captain Robert Elmore, the first to report, has just returned from two months of work and play in Camp Keoka, Naples, Maine, looking brown and fit for hard duty. Other backfield probabilities, all looking hard and trim, include Red Kohlas, Albert and Ernest Mandes, Edward Peters, Jack Everhart, Tom Slack, John Pennypacker, Woodbury, McLaughlin, Staley, and a big six-footer—by name Neeley. Out of this group a fast diversified backfield can be made.

Two good ends have returned in D'Amora and Lockwood, and these will be kept hustling for their positions by Charles Roache, Bowman, Winn and Ramsey. Dolan, Ned Cunningham, Beatty and McGee will get the first call at the tackle posts; Lard Cunningham, Charlie Faulke (last of the line), Spinelli and Pugh are veteran guards; and Scott and Ross are both ready for duty at center.

Mandes seems to have improved very much and with the coaching of Maron Miller, a former star, now quarterback at Western Maryland, is well on his way to a better season than he had last year. The first practice found him weaving his way through the line on "cut-it" plays, and throwing passes in midseason form.

Although it is too early in the season to predict those who will Interschool Football Will Begin This Year at Jr. H. S.

Lower Merion Junior High School will start football this season for the first time as an interschool sport. The team will be fully equipped, and candidates for the team will be called out about the first of October.

A short schedule has been arranged with other suburban junior high schools, and a championship team is expected to keep track with traditions already established in sports at the Junior High. Mr. Suloff will be in charge of the team, while Mr. Fowler or Mr. Coronway will handle the backfield.

ENLARGE DRAINS

One of the busiest corners in Narberth, Haverford and Narberth avenue intersection, presented a war-like scene this week with excavations and trenches being dug to install larger drain pipes from the storm sewers at Crane's and Cooper's corners to the main drain on the other side of Haverford avenue. The new pipes are 15 inches in diameter and should effectually carry off the water which heretofore formed a lake in that section.

Co-operative Effort Is Backbone of Community Life and Prosperity

In the upbuilding and development of a community there are no "set rules" to follow, because each problem presented for solution by the entire citizenship has its little problem within the big one, that must be solved with a view to fairness and in the light of existing circumstances.

However, there are certain clearly defined principles, which, if applied rightly will bring the most desirable results for the greatest number concerned; and if applied wrongly or not at all will retard progress and fail to be productive of the general good.

What does every community need? Necessarily, all public un-

LARGE ENROLLMENT TAKES PLACE HERE

Registry Assessors' Books Show 2732 Listed in Borough.

WOMEN LEAD OVER MEN

The greatest number of enrolled voters ever on the Borough voting list is the result of the registration days, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. A total of 2732 are listed on the books of the Registry Assessors as being eligible to vote this year.

No doubt the Presidential election is chiefly responsible for the unusual interest shown by prospective voters. While the number of new residents enrolled is not so great there was curiosity shown by old residents who wanted to make sure they were properly listed.

A point worthy of interest is the fact that more women are now enrolled on the Borough lists than men. In all but the first district the women were supreme in numbers, the total figures being 1413 to 1319.

Party affiliations show a decided leaning to the bandwagon of the Republican party. If Al Smith had to depend on support such as is evidenced here, he would be in a bad way. Over 2000 are registered as Republicans while Democrats number only 334. A considerable number, 233, are registered as Independents or no party affiliation, which leaves them on the fence so far as drawing conclusions goes.

The largest enrollment took place in District No. 2, where 1156 are on the books. Of these 606 are women and 550 men. The party lineup for the men is: R. 412, D. 75, N. P. 43; for the women: R. 468, D. 71, N. P. 61.

Third District had the second highest number enrolled with 1023, 502 being men and the remainder 521 women. The party affiliations here were as follows: men; R. 395, D. 56, N. P. 51. For the women: R. 401, D. 62, N. P. 58. District No. 1 (the South side) has 573 voters enrolled. Here the men outnumbered the women by one only, 287 to 286. Of the men 251 are registered as Republicans, 34 as Democrats, and two with no party affiliations. Of the women 248 are Republicans, 36 Democrats, and two without party affiliations.

With such a large enrollment a heavy vote is expected in November.

LAY NEW STREET

Those residents of Iona avenue, living in the district known as Anthony Farms, a part of Lower Merion Township, but to all intents and purposes a part of Narberth, have just cause for rejoicing with the laying down of an improved road on what was one of the roughest and bumpiest roads to be seen anywhere. The new street has uniform stone curbing and will be of smooth macadam when completed.

Ye Oddity Shoppe, the attractive gift shop at the corner of Haverford and Forrest avenues, announces the withdrawal of Mrs. Egan from the firm. Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. Nash will continue as the Shoppe's pilots.

VETERANS ELECT PERMANENT HEADS

New Post Installs Officers. Makes Daniel L. Hickey Commander.

SEEK MORE RECRUITS

Officers to serve as permanent heads of the Miller-Merkle Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were elected at a meeting of the new Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth organization held Monday night in the Cynwyd fire house. They will serve until January 1, 1929, when officers will be elected for a full year thereafter.

Daniel L. Hickey, Cynwyd, temporary commander and an organizer of the post, was made commander. Other officers are as follows: Charles J. Haywood, senior vice commander; Albert V. Whiteside, junior vice commander; Harrison H. Sherbondy, chaplain; Frank S. Leins, quartermaster; David Carr, Jr., Bala, adjutant; and three trustees, John J. Conway, Narberth, to serve 18 months; James Nicholson, Wissahickon, 12 months, and Howard V. McGeoy, Cynwyd, six months.

Morris N. Tobin, advocate general of the body, officiated at the installation of officers. He was assisted by Lt. A. T. Morrissey.

Three applications for membership were received and voted on. The new comrades will be admitted at a meeting to be held in the near future. A call for additional recruits has been issued by Sergeant William Super, of the recruiting committee.

A feature of the evening was a talk on the history of the national veterans' organization since its beginning in 1898, delivered by Commander Samuel Warshaw, of the Archer Epleon Post, Philadelphia.

FESTIVITIES MARK COUNCIL'S MEETING

Inauguration of New Quarters Was Event of Civic Character.

MANY VISITORS THERE

Thirty years ago the Narberth Borough Council held its first meeting in Elm Hall on the second floor in an ill-furnished room.

Last Monday night, Tristan B. duMarais, president of the Narberth Fire Company and a witness of this earlier meeting, welcomed council to its new quarters, again on the second floor of the building, but now a handsomely finished and splendidly equipped room.

The occasion was a gala one. Palms and ferns together with a large bouquet of flowers lent the room a festive air. Councilmen also were dressed in keeping with the occasion, all wearing white flannels.

Nor was all this splendor wasted on the desert air. In attendance at this, the September meeting of the Borough Fathers, were more people than have been at all the Council meetings since last winter. Seen in the "gallery" were a former president of Council, a former burgess, a staunch member of Council's "Auxiliary," a prominent realtor, a librarian, a publisher, and a manager of a ball team.

"The hour of eight having arrived," speeches were in order. Mr. duMarais extended the welcome of the Fire Company to Council on their taking possession of their new home. "We had no other ambition than to make quarters fitting and agreeable to you (Council), and I am proud and glad to see you here tonight," he said in concluding his welcome.

Daniel Leitch, president of Council, replied with thanks to Mr. duMarais and welcomed the visitors in turn. E. C. Griswold, a former president of Council, was called upon next by Mr. Leitch; whereupon the present real estate assessor commended the work of a member of Council for his part in beautifying the building.

"The new council chamber," Mr. Griswold said, "is not only a credit to the Borough and the fire company, but also a beauty spot which neighboring municipalities might well visit with pleasure and profit."

Carl B. Metzger, a former burgess, drew striking contrasts with Council's earlier days and congratulated the fire company and the Borough on their new quarters.

To Burgess Henry A. Frye the inauguration of the new quarters seemed the beginning of a new era in Borough affairs. It is a symbol of its blossoming out. Mr. Frye called attention to the fact that Narberth had been quoted in the New York Times by one writer as being the only municipality to his knowledge in the country which had reduced its taxes since the war. The reduction of taxes and at the same time moving into quarters like these speaks well for the Borough," Mr. Frye said. He also echoed Mr. Leitch's invitation to people to attend Council's meetings more often. "Closer contact between residents and Borough officials, such as quarters like these should foster, is one of the surest methods of adjusting disputes and arriving at mutual understanding," the Burgess claimed.

The appointment of Dr. George A. Sloan as president of the Board of Health for a three year term ending July 1, 1931, to succeed himself, was announced by President Leitch.

The building report for the month of August showed a total of seven building permits issued at a cost of $38 for operations estimated at $15.

ST. MARGARET'S CROWDED

With an enrollment that surpasses that of any previous year of its existence, St. Margaret's Parochial School has opened with its present capacity taxed to the last seat. The next move of the school authorities must be to open a new room or rooms. When questioned about this interesting development in the school life of Narberth, the Reverend Father Hayes stated that the increase in the number of pupils in this school represents a growth of exactly 45 per cent. in the past two years.

HIGHWAY REPORT

New Arrangements With Township Government.
The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee of Council as presented at the meeting of that body last Monday night is as follows:
The chairman of this committee and the Superintendent of Public Works held a conference with the members of the Highway Committee of the Lower Merion Township Commissioners at the Township Building at Ardmore, on the afternoon of August 20 in order to learn definitely their requirements governing the use of the township dump and to agree upon the fee which the borough would pay the township for the dumping privilege in the future. We were informed that they had decided to charge a fee of 25 cents a load which would amount to about $500 a year from the borough on the basis of the number of loads that we have been averaging to deposit there in the recent past.
It was agreed that the township would accept from the borough an annual fee of $250 to cover all uses of the dump for borough purposes; that is, all loads taken to the dump on borough trucks by borough men. This fee does not cover any use of the dump by citizens of the borough acting individually. Such private dumping by citizens of Narberth will be subject to the same fees as all other private dumping. It was agreed that the borough would plow out the road to the dump whenever snowfall makes that necessary. The fee to be billed by the township and paid by the borough in whatever installments may best suit the convenience of the township. This agreement is to become effective September 17, 1928, and to run for six months and is subject to termination or alteration after that time by either party after reasonable warning.
We believe that this is a fair and equitable arrangement and we, therefore, recommend that this agreement, including the payment of the fee, be ratified by Council and that, pending the presentation of a written draft of this agreement by the township, this statement of it in the minutes of Council shall be the borough's official record of it.
As a result of the new regulations at the township dump, it becomes necessary on and after September 17 for all paper rubbish to be kept separate and dumped separately from ashes and other rubbish. In order to make this requirement effective, the Superintendent of Public Works, instructed by this committee, has served a printed notification of the new requirements at all dwellings, apartment houses, stores and churches in the borough. We have also built extension sides for the body of our smaller truck for use in the separate collection of papers.

In August we completed the work of installing new inlets and raising the depressed gutter across the intersection of Forrest and Haverford avenues at a total cost of $521.77, of which an itemized account is available in the files of this committee.

Between now and the twenty-fourth of September we propose to replace with larger pipes the connection from the inlets at the Cooper and Crane corners, so-called, to the main surface-water drain on Haverford avenue. The heavy storms of this year have indicated that a better in-take arrangement is necessary at those two points.

The following amount of money was spent on borough work during the month of August, 1928:

Cu. Yds. of Labor Material Ashes
Street cleaning	$164.70
Sewer maintenance	46.10

Ash collections	354.22	504
Sick	28.80
Labor on roller when rented	7.20
Street maintenance	738.82	$949.92
Storage building	14.40

$1354.24 $949.92 504
During the month we collected the ashes, trash and rubbish, cleaned the streets and storm inlets, repaired the roads, filled in the gutters on both sides of Hampden avenue between Windsor and Woodbine avenues, at a cost of $158.21; filled in the gutters on Iona avenue between Windsor and Meeting House lane, at a cost of $146.59; patched the ditch on Sabine avenue, between Wynnewood and Montgomery avenues at the cost of $422.62, as far as we have gone. There is about 100 feet to do yet which will be done on Monday, September 10, 1928.

The terra cotta storm sewer in Wynnedale road, has been dug up and all the joints cemented, and refilled at a cost of $100.

The borough engineers have surveyed the corner of Woodside and Chestnut avenues but at this writing we have not received the data for the deed.

Beware of "Bell Ringers"

Look out for the "bell ringer" canvasser and peddler!

They bother you every hour of the day and sell merchandise that does not carry the brand of quality.

They make enormous profits by selling you at the door. When they leave they take themselves and their profits out of the community.

Compare them with the local merchant, who is established here to stay, who gives you service every day of the year and who spends his profits in the community to make your home town a better one in which to live.

After once buying from "bell ringers," chances are you will never see them again.

On the other hand, the home merchant is your neighbor and your friend. He is here all the time to back up the goods he sells you.

Isn't it more worth while to patronize your neighbor and friend, instead of a total stranger?

A Crucial Affair

Unlike the American League race which continues to the end of September, tomorrow's game—Narberth vs. Berwyn, is the be all or the end all. A victory for Narberth will tie Berwyn, the league leaders, necessitating another game with Doyle's team for the championship. A defeat will clinch the title for Berwyn.

So it would seem that tomorrow's game is a crucial one for the Narberth club. True second place can be held at all events, but who wants to be second when they can be first? While the half season of league competition has been fairly successful a satisfactory climax to the year will not be forthcoming without a victory tomorrow.

Like the A's Narberth would rest a while, even though a brief while, on the eminences of baseball. The team has been playing good ball of late. Two wins over Newtown square last Saturday, the only team to beat Berwyn in the second half of the league, testify to that. If good support is forthcoming the chances of coping the game are increased many fold.

In the old days when Narberth won the championship of the Main Line League as regularly as the clock ticks, there was perhaps a falling off in interest because of the foregone conclusion that Narberth would win. Now with veterans of former days missing from the line-up it has been more of a struggle. And for that very reason the games are better to watch. The boys are in there scrapping all the time and the result hangs in balance. May the best team win!

Progress of an Idea

The culmination of 30 years of effort on the part of the Narberth Fire Company was reached Monday night when Council was officially welcomed to its new quarters in the reconstructed Elm Hall by the president of the Fire Company, Tristram B. du Marais. The completion of this building, housing as it does the borough activities, as well as the fire headquarters can well be considered the beginning of a new era.

There seems to be a growing conviction which is making itself felt everywhere, that buildings and things in daily use must not only be practical but beautiful as well. Use is no longer the sole criterion by which things are judged. Utilitarianism is on the decline.

Whether this is due to a renaissance in taste, to a growing feeling for beauty, an aversion to drabness and ugliness or to some other reason is hard to tell. The important thing is that such change has come over the spirit of our dreams. Witness several instances of this within the last year.

The planting of trees around the playground by A. E. Wohler did much to add to the attractiveness of that well-used land. The new post office opened recently on Essex avenue is such a vast improvement on all previous governmental abodes that there is no comparison. Elm Hall with its Council chamber, small and large halls is now a thing of beauty. Two new stores recently erected on Haverford avenue carry this idea on in a more purely commercial field.

In short we are no longer content with things that will "pass"; we want things which are satisfying to our finer instincts.

TAKE DOUBLEHEADER

shortstop of the then champion scholastic baseball nine of the east, and after two successive years of promising performances with his Alma Mater, the trophied school boy broke into the hold of Mr. Walzer, where he constantly played luminous ball, which partly accounts for Narberth's second place in the Main Line League and which may result in another championship. And now, like any ambitious youngster, we find the Star Varsity shortstop going to Harrowgate, George Babb's former Alma Mater. John Mulligan is expected to replace a Senor Ebretts, who is to get a tryout with the Phillies in early spring. For that reason Manager Walzer kept Mike out of the game a good deal on Saturday that he might rest up for his golden opportunity.

The big berths of the local vikings thundered throughout the entire first fracas as they swamped the Octoraro Branchers for 20 nicks from which they managed to squeeze out 16 runs. Marty Gilroy, of Harrowgate and Phillies fame, had the invaders bamboozled from the very beginning and not once did they ever threaten the mighty Marty. Jack Jeffries, formerly of Reading International League, was the ashen moustache as he led with a rollicking triple and two timely bingles. Vernie Fleck and Humphries, the 37-year-old veteran of baseball, came through with the mediocre three neat, dinky hits which gave their pals the gruesome one-sided win.

Newtown Square led the attack with one run in the opening canto but Narberth equalled the score in their half. With two out, Moyer sent out a single and Simms gave the next heave a violent ride out into deep center, shipping in Moyer, who made a greyhound gyration of the remaining bases. One run, two hits, no errors.

The shortstop's homer put Gillespie on and Gilfillan and Jeffries sacrificed the maskman to third. Johnny stole the plate when the catcher muffed one and Fleck was nipped at first; P. Orlip to Hall. One run, no hits, one error.

Narberth passed the mark in their half and the game seemed replete with action. Humphries got on when the first baseman dropped his easy grounder and then barely hi-jacked to second. Lindsay sacrificed the vet to third and Carter sent out a smoking one-bagger to port, admitting the star third baseman. Babb sent an aerial to center and Gilroy lifted one to the maskman. One run, one hit, one error.

The Black Sox (so named for their uniforms) went scoreless for the next four innings while the Walzermen rolled up 11 runs in three frames. The score stood 8-1 in the third. Gillespie unriffed a snappy comb through second and Gilly sent out the usual sacrifice. Jeff sent a tidy single to port promoting Johnny to third and Vernie followed with a corking ripper to center; Gillespie counting. Humphries singled, filling the lanes, and Lindsay tripled to the left wing forcing in Reading's ace. Exit P. Orlip; enter Bill Eaches, 49-year-old hurler. Carter greeted the old man with an amble and presto purloined second. Babb got on from an error; Lindsay scoring, and Gilroy lofted to left; Carter counting. Gillespie outfooted his easy hit and Gilfillan doubled, whereupon George was nipped approaching the plate. Six runs, seven hits, one error.

Jeffries and Fleck scored off Carter's booming double in the fourth and Babb singled; Humphries and Carter counting. Four runs, five hits, no errors.

While the Black Sox were still hitless in the fifth, Narberth made good another in the home half. Fleck made first on an error and then went on to second and third as the tailenders continued with erroneous plays. Humphries arched one over second and Vernie slid home. Lindsay doubled and Carter made two bases when the center fielder dropped his skyrocket. Babb whiffed and Gilroy popped to left. One run, three hits, three errors.

Marty was still an enigma to the visiting nine and merely allowed three bingles from which the visitors scored one, and got away with two in the seventh, the following inning. However, the engines of the home champions functioned with excellent precision and they too scored likewise, in the seventh and eighth. Blessing played for Nick in left. McMonagle, who had the fans in an uproar, again performed for Vernie in center, while Bob Harris substituted for Babb out in the right wing. Hall crashed a potent triple along the ribbon in right field and Moyer scored Hall from his timely scorch to left. Simms singled and stole second and Darlington popped to Harris. Bowman watched three go by and Campbell and Jeffries. One run, three hits, one error.

Palmer scored Bill Eaches, who got on from a hot two-bagger, and W. Orlip coiled in the second run on Gillespie's error. Two runs, one hit, one error.

"Lynx-eyed" McMonagle, eminent in the art of base stealing, continued to pull his pet tricks in the seventh when he started out with a hard grounder which the shortstop could not handle and then scored over to second, third and home with the dexterity of a big leaguer. One run, one hit, no errors.

The usual 15-minute intermission separated the twin card, while the two teams rested up a bit listening to the results of the A's-New York game, which were being rumored about.

Newtown Square and Narberth took to the field for the second contest and a much tighter game ensued. Unlike the impotence the tourists displayed in the first runaway, the fans saw a more commendable exhibition in the latter meeting in which the Black Sox came threateningly close to better the local score. They outbit the home nine with 11 nicks compared to 10 off P. Orlip, the Victor McLaglen of the diamond. Narberth began to crash the corposant-like globule out of the quadratic to score three in the first and following innings. They also sent three runners over the final platter in the eighth while the West Chesterites scored in fragments. Bowman and Darlington led the rival attack, the former with two doubles, while Darlington's response to Zip Long's last ball was a masterpiece to Windsor avenue, for four bases, followed with a triple. Jeffries and Fleck lead the local male swingers with three baggers, while Gilfillan swung the ash for a two-bagger and a single. Orlip checked Gillespie's ripper and relayed to first. Nick singled and made second on the maskman's error. Jeffries could not see anything good to slice and walked. Fleck splashed a well placed triple to port admitting Carter and Jeff. Humphries singled to right and Lindsay skied to center. Three runs, three hits, no errors.

The Walzermen scored another trio in the second while the Black Sox came through with two. Gilfillan doubled to the road and Babb dropped one over short advancing Gilly to third. Babb stole second and Zip strolled. Gillespie made first when the first baseman received an overthrow and Gilfillan and Babb came home. Carter was forced out; P. Orlip to Hall and Jeffries strolled. Fleck was retired via the chuck device; Darlington to Hall, and Long slipped home. Humphries walked and Roger was thrown out; P. Orlip to Hall. Three runs, two hits, one error.

The Newtown Square bunch showed signs of renaissance in the same frame as they managed to bag more counters while the locals were speculating on a more interesting fracas. Hall canonaded a resounding single to center and Palmer made three bases from an overthrow to third. Hall counting. Eaches popped to Gilly and Sandy sacrificed Palmer home. Orlip whiffed. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Orlip's gang secured three hefty bingles in as many innings and the count was breath-taking in the seventh. Darlington found Long no hard puzzle to solve and greeted him with the prettiest round-tripper any fan could lay his eye on. The ball must have seemed like an illuminated globule to the mighty keystone guard for the booming ripper glided out to the highway and on across the way inspire of a spectator's attempt to block its path. Palmer and Moyer went out via the strikeout route and Simms singled to left. Hall surrendered. One run, one hit, one error.

Playing "head down" ball Newtown Square was resolved to turn the trick in this second breath-taker and sent another marker across as the home clan began to scent danger. Bowman hit to port for a two-bagger and Eaches quit. While Sandy was being thrown out on second, Bowman made his way home for another valuable pointer. Orlip's vicious grounder made its way through the veteran's legs while he easily took first. Long blanked brother Orlip and Darlington was retired; Long to Jeffries. One run, one hit, no errors.

The seventh inning found the score five to six and Walzer had one of those cross-country frowns on his map. Orlip singled and scored off Darlington's triple to deep center. Darlington was foiled in his attempt to purloin the plate when Palmer bunted. Moyer popped to Fleck and Simms lofted a lame one to Gilfillan. Hall quit. One run, three hits, no errors.

The locals staged a three-run spurge in the eighth and netted the pointers which decisively decided the game. Fred instructed Gillespie to hunt, but failed in the attempt, and managed to stroll. Carter sent Orlip's slow ball over the first baseman's reach promoting Johny to third, and Jeffries smashed the cowhide out by the right field foul line; Gillespie and Carter counting. Orlip's assist to first nipped Vernie while Jeffries came over the pentagon. Orlip intercepted Humphries' grounder while Sandy's bullet throw nipped Lindsay on first. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Rudolph Suit in West Manayunk Recalls Earlier Soot Litigation

Litigation over a railroad company's exercise of its right of eminent domain for the acquisition of property has been infrequent in Montgomery county in recent years. Hence, attention has been directed to the action of the Rudolph family in filing an appeal in the Pennsylvania Superior Court against the action of the Reading Company in appropriating 225 square feet of land belonging to the Rudolph estate at West Manayunk. One of the grounds for the proceedings is that if the railroad is permitted to acquire this land the Rudolphs would be deprived of the well at the Rudolph homestead.

Perhaps this suit will recall to some of the older members of the Montgomery county bar the protracted litigation which the Rudolph family conducted in the Courts of the county and in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania more than 30 years ago, when the basis for complaint also involved a railroad's exercise of the right of eminent domain. That suit of the nineties was directed against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company because of the building of a siding to connect with the Pencoyd Iron Works. Eventually the Rudolphs won, damages to the amount of $110,000 being awarded them.

C. A. Rudolph, who, with his four sisters, has instituted the present appeal, was the leading witness in the earlier suit in which the plaintiff was his father, the late Sebastian A. Rudolph. Mr. Rudolph alleged that the construction of the siding of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the use of soft coal in the locomotives had damaged his paper mill to such an extent as to compel him to shut down.

Came Here as Boy of 7.

Sebastian A. Rudolph began paper making at West Manayunk in 1864, occupying a mill building close to the river bank that had formerly been a dye wood factory. Mr. Rudolph, a native of Germany, had come to Manayunk with his parents at a boy of 7, and two years later began working in the mill room of one of the Manayunk mills for 50 cents a week. At 16 he obtained employment in a grocery store, and at 21 he bought the store.

The Ashland Paper Mills, as Mr. Rudolph's industry at West Manayunk was called, were among the first paper mills in the country to utilize wood pulp for making "news print"—that is paper on which newspapers are printed. The invention was that of John Dixon, of Manayunk, who was associated with Mr. Rudolph in the business for several years. Later, however, with Mr. Rudolph as sole owner, the mills specialized in the production of a high-grade of book paper.

Pure spring water is desirable in paper making. For the Rudolph's mills a suitable supply of water was obtained from Rockhill creek, which flows down the slopes of West Manayunk into the Schuylkill. A reservoir of three acres was created in the bed of the stream, and there was also a filtering plant.

In building its tracks to Pencoyd in 1890, the Pennsylvania Railroad appropriated some of the Rudolph land and two tenant houses.

First, Mr. Rudolph began injunction proceedings to prevent the laying of tracks, asserting that the locomotives passing over the line, by burning soft coal and emitting great quantities of smoke as they pulled up the heavy grade, would spoil the water of Rockhill creek, so as to make it unsuitable for paper manufacture.

The Montgomery county Court dismissed the bill in equity, suggesting that Mr. Rudolph's remedy lay in a suit for damages. He followed the Court's suggestion and the case came to trial in October, 1895, two weeks being required to hear the evidence and the arguments.

Many Testified.

Many witnesses experienced in paper making testified with regard to the effect of the locomotives' smoke. C. A. Rudolph, son of the owner, who was superintendent of the mills, told how attempts to make paper resulted in a product marred with black spots, so that it was necessary to abandon the manufacture of high-grade paper. Estimates of the damage ranged from $100,000 to $175,000.

One of the witnesses in behalf of the Rudolph firm was Oscar C. S. Carter, of Norristown, then a professor at the Central High School, Philadelphia. He appeared as an expert in analytical chemistry, testifying as to his analysis of the water of the creek.

The question was raised as to why so much damage should result following the construction of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks when the Reading Railroad had for years been running its trains past the paper mill. The explanation was that the Reading locomotives burned anthracite, which did not affect the water, while the soft coal which the Pennsylvania locomotives consumed threw off great quantities of soot and smoke.

Notable Legal Array.

A notable array of legal talent appeared in the suit. Mr. Rudolph's lawyers were John M. Vanderslice, of Philadelphia, who in later years was a resident of Collegeville; his brother, Thaddeus L. Vanderslice, and Nicholas H. Larzelere, of Norristown. The railroad company's attorneys were the trio who conducted many a suit incidental to the building of the Pennsylvania Railroad through the Schuylkill Valley—Charles H. Stinson, C. Henry Stinson and William F. Solly. Judge A. S. Swartz presided at the trial.

The jury awarded $110,000 damages and six cents costs.

An appeal to the Supreme Court was taken. The paper book containing the evidence comprised several hundred pages. However, the verdict was not altered.

The mills were abandoned and the buildings removed shortly after that time. Members of the family have lived ever since in the large stone house alongside Belmont avenue, close to the Schuylkill bridge, and the row of dwellings nearby in which employees of the paper mills formerly lived, is still known as Rudolph's row.

ENJOY BENEFITS OF FIVE STATE PARKS

Valley Forge Was the First Established in Pennsylvania.

Visitors in unprecedented numbers are enjoying the benefits of the five State parks, according to reports made to the Department of Forests and Waters. While each of the State parks commemorates historic events and was created primarily for that purpose the increasing number of tourists and visitors has necessitated the development of recreational conveniences.

Each of the five parks was created by special acts of the General Assembly. They are administered by separate non-salaried commissions appointed by the Governor. The Department of Forests and Waters in 1923 was given fiscal control over the State parks and the secretary of Forests and Waters was made a member, former officio, of each of the State Park Commissions.

Valley Forge was the first State park created in Pennsylvania, being provided for by legislation of 1893. The next State park to be created was Fort Washington, established in 1915. This was followed by Washington Crossing State Park, established in 1917, the Pennsylvania State Park in 1921, and the Bushy Run State Park in 1927. With the exception of the Pennsylvania State Park, which was transferred to the State by the War Department, these areas were all purchased by the State, aside from the gift of a few acres in Fort Washington Park.

Valley Forge is located along Valley Creek, near its junction with the Schuylkill River, about 15 miles northwest of Philadelphia. It contains 1428 acres, embracing the site occupied by the Continental army in the winter of 1777-78. There has been appropriated by the State for its purchase and improvement a total of $2,090,000.

The Fort Washington State Park covers 166 acres, embracing the historic site upon which was erected Fort Washington in Whitemarsh township, Montgomery county. The Fort Washington Park Commission is composed of the members of the Fairmount Park Commission of Philadelphia, and this commission was authorized to acquire land for this park not to exceed 1100 acres. To date the State has appropriated $341,750 upon acquisition, improvement and maintenance.

The Washington Crossing State Park commemorates the site on which the Continental army was assembled the night preceding the Battle of Trenton, December 25, 1776. The place of embarkation, the old Ferry House and other properties, including 1200 of river front, have been purchased. An area of not more than 500 acres is authorized and 320 acres of this have been acquired. The park is to be maintained in as nearly as possible its original condition, but provisions have been made for public use, including bathing facilities on the river. The total appropriation by the State to date has been $446,000.

The Pennsylvania State Park occupies a peninsula of about 3200 acres, including the bay of Presque Isle and the harbor of Erie. It was here that Commander Perry's fleet was constructed before the naval battle of Lake Erie. This State park was established through the co-operation of the United States War Department, which in 1921 transferred the area to the State without cost. The State appropriated $235,000, and the city of Erie $75,000, for the development of the park, and the present biennial appropriation by the State is $130,000. A bathing beach and other recreational advantages are being developed. Government fish hatcheries are maintained on the property.

The Bushey Run Battlefield Commission was authorized by act of May 4, 1927, to negotiate with the Bushey Run-Battlefield Memorial Association for the acquisition by the Commonwealth of that part of the battlefield then owned by the association, and to further acquire by purchase or gift additional areas sufficient to preserve the site of the Battle of Bushey Run.

REGISTRY PROMISES RECORD VOTE HERE

Hundreds of Names Added in Two-Day Period This Week.

MERION MOST ACTIVE

Lower Merion and Narberth will poll record-breaking votes at the presidential election in November. Registry assessors in the 13 districts in the township and the three in the borough, declared Wednesday night, at the conclusion of a two-day enrollment period, that their lists contained more names of eligible voters than ever before.

The assessors sat at the polling places in their respective districts Tuesday and Wednesday during the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. and 6 P. M. to 9 P. M. Standard Time to enroll voters who were not already on their lists. Hundreds of new voters and residents who had changed their residences, appeared before them. In addition scores of old ones who were already on called around to be sure that they were still eligible.

Considerable interest was shown in the registration. District and township leaders were called constantly throughout the day for information on procedure. There was also a stream of telephone calls to newspaper offices requesting information of a like nature.

The enrollment in all districts took a jump as a result of the registry sittings. In some of the bigger ones of the township from 300 to 400 new names were added. In Cynwyd and North Ardmore, over 2000 names were listed when the books were closed Wednesday night preparatory to being sent to the county commissioners. The biggest increase came perhaps in Merion where residents are usually lax in registering for local elections.

Lower Merion and Narberth Republican leaders are confident of large majorities for Hoover for President at the fall election, but it is admitted that a considerable gain will be made by the Democrats for Smith.

As one district leader pointed out: "While the Democrats will lose votes in some sections of the county on Smith, because of his stand on certain questions, they can't lose many Democratic votes along the Main Line, because there were not any to speak of here before to be lost."

TIME TO READ "ANNA"

Centenary of Tolstoi's Birth Observed
This Week.

The literary world is observing this week the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Tolstoi, known in Russia as Count Lyov Nikolaievich Tolstoi, who was born September 9, 1828, and who died at the age of 82. In connection with the centennial the Oxford University press is publishing a new edition of his writings, thus giving every one who has always "been intending" to read something of Tolstoi's a reawakened interest.

"Anna Karenina," the novel most likely to attract attention at this time, is considered one of the very best of his works. Nearly three times as long as our modern novels, it has the power of fascinating the reader up to the very end. It is the story of life in pre-war Russia, told with infinite detail, and with marvellous portraiture. John Galsworthy, who has written the introduction to this novel in the new edition, says that it contains six of Tolstoi's most striking characters; the old prince, his daughter Kitty, Stepan Arkadyevich, Vronsky, Levin and Anna herself, giving a great study of Russian character, and Russian society up to the time of the war. There is always a difference of opinion where-ever the novel is discussed as to whether so vital a character as Anna would have committed suicide if Tolstoi had not so determined. Galsworthy argues for the negative.

The novel has two plots, the relations between Vronsky, the social lion, and Anna, wife of the bureaucratic official, thus giving an opportunity for treating of the questions centering about marriage; and for the second plot, the life of the landed proprietor which was regenerated through contact with the common people and with manual labor.

The book at this time will have unusual interest as Tolstoi himself has said that it contains much biographical material. The Library has a copy of the book ready for circulation.

A CHILD'S THOUGHT

Dear God, I lie on your soft grass
And pretend it is your hand,
(Oh, I can do so many things Grown folks don't understand).

I love the pretty things you've made;
I watch your birds sail high
And wish that they could bring to me
A little piece of sky—

A wee, wee bit of sky for me
From where it's long miles deep, so blue.
And then, God, when I die some day
I'd bring it back to you.

Boys' Book Published

by Ardmore Author

"Boys and Buoy," a sea-story book, written by F. V. Wetherill, of Ardmore, for boys from 7 to 13 years old, has been published in Philadelphia.

The author, born in Rosemont and a graduate of the Haverford school, tells a story of the United States Lighthouse Service with a series of yarns by sea-faring men. Between the tales are sandwiched facts about Uncle Sam's Lighthouse Service, which should prove far from boring to boys who have seen and wondered about lighthouses and buoys. The author was editor of the Haverford School Index during his attendance there, and then attended the University of Pennsylvania and George Washington University, graduating in Mechanical Engineering. He received early training in the Merchant Marine as a cadet engineer, and then served in the U. S. Lighthouse Service as assistant engineer on the Pacific coast. During the war he was transferred to the United States Bureau of Standards serving as mechanical engineer on tests of airplane engines and then returned to the Main Line.

Keystone Outlines

Canadian Lakes Tour

With many motorists about to make vacation tours into the northern fastnesses, the Keystone Automobile Club offers a fine trip into the famed lakes country in the Province of Ontario, Canada.

"Lake Simcoe and the Muskoka," said Joseph R. Murphy, manager of the Keystone Automobile Club in Ardmore, "are among the most famous lakes in the North. Here the tourists will enjoy fine scenery as well as excellent fishing. Later in the fall the hunting season will open, and many sportsmen will journey to this section to hunt deer and moose."

From Ardmore follow the Lincoln Highway through Paoli and Malvern on the Main Line and through Downingtown, Coatesville and Lancaster. At Lancaster bear right on the Harrisburg road to Harrisburg the capital of the State.

From Harrisburg follow the Susquehanna Trail north. There is a short detour just north of Harrisburg which is routed over three miles of macadam road. This detour can be avoided, however, by crossing the Susquehanna River from Harrisburg to Lemoyne and following State Route 14 north to Clarks Ferry bridge.

At Clarks Ferry the Susquehanna Trail is met.

To Enter Duke

Frank Peabody, of Ardmore, former captain of the football team at Lower Merion High School in 1924, will leave next Saturday for Duke University, to enter the Freshman class. He has been working at the Ardmore Post Office since his graduation in 1925 from high school.

ANNOUNCE FACULTY

Bala and Merion Square schools will be the only ones of the 10 public institutions in the township which will go through the new term with the same staffs as last year. The changes have been made in the others, they are fewer than usual. At the Senior High, there will be six new teachers, at the Junior High two; Ardmore avenue, one; Ashland, four; Bryn Mawr, two; Cynwyd, two; Merion three; and Wynnewood, four.

Fourteen instructors are in the special group which includes permanent substitute, domestic science teachers, manual training instructors, a music supervisor and nurses. The personnel of this special staff is the same as last year.

An increase of several hundred is anticipated this year in the enrollment, but this is a normal growth and no serious over-crowding is expected to result. Wynnewood School which was opened last year helped to solve this question at the Ardmore avenue school and Merion school, which was opened before the Wynnewood building relieved the Cynwyd school of some of its quota.

Following is a complete list of the Lower Merion public school's faculty:

CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT IS

while the former is the shadow of hopes.

A community is its people. A community is not merely wealth, not merely population, not merely climate or scenery. A community is men and women who can say "No" when that is to be said, and "Yes" when that is to be said. Every community needs people who investigate and then co-operate. No half-baked community project ever meets with success.

Every community needs a sense of loyalty on the part of its citizenship for home institutions and home business. Every community needs townspeople who believe in the agricultural and industrial environments, and a corresponding sense of responsibility and dependency of its rural populations upon the business of the town.

Every community needs conditions of law, order and morality that will attract the kind of people who have like ideals, and that will disinterest the law violator and elements of the morally depraved.

Every community needs opportunities for a richer, fuller and more abundant life for all of its people, young and old, weak and strong, rich and poor, white and black, through wholesome recreation, public parks, music, drama, art and handicrafts.

Every community needs good schools for its children and opportunities for peaceful and enjoyable social contacts for its grown-ups as well.

Every community needs churches where men and women may worship God—their God—without molestation, without intolerance and according to the mandates of individual consciences.

Every community needs politics and public officials free from taint of fraud or suspicion of graft—a condition where even honesty is paramount to efficiency if both cannot be had in the same persons.

Every community needs not only sanitation, health and beauty in home, yard, street, store and public place, but a spirit of civic responsibility and love of the most out of life that will not tolerate any other conditions; where these things come as a matter of course and not as the result of force. Every community needs vision, not only for the things they may acquire selfishly, but as a perspective for the world of communities that reach out to county,

State and nation beyond the precincts of home. Every community needs things that cost so little to have, but cost so much if done without. This is the fine thing about co-operation in community life.

The business of building a greater town is realistic as well as idealistic. Nothing is impossible. In fact, most of it within our reach, and much of it is our present heritage, handed down from those who have lived and worked and gone before.

make up the first eleven. Coach Adams, in his short talk, said that it did not matter to him who was on the varsity last year, as his problem was to get a team this year and that everyone who could prove to him within the next three weeks that he could play football would have an excellent chance to start the first game.

A number of good men have been graduated from the four teams at the junior high school which played intramural football last fall. These boys have added many pounds during the summer and should be of some assistance this season. If not, Coach Davis and Coronway will whip them into shape via second team methods for future seasons.

Manager "Bobby" Russ has arranged an attractive schedule, including games with Southern and Norristown, the two new names on the list. Two games are away, Cheltenham and Radnor. The full schedule follows:

Berwyn, Saturday, September 29—At home.
Southern, Saturday, October 6—At home.
Cheltenham, Friday, October 12—Away.
Haverford High, Saturday, October 20—At home.
Lansdowne, Saturday, October 27—At home.
Abington, Saturday, November 3—At home.
Norristown, Saturday, November 10—At home.
Upper Darby, Saturday, November 17—At home.
Radnor, Saturday, November 24—Away.

855. The building inspector reported making 47 inspections during the month, 13 operations being completed.

The negotiations and agreement with the township covering the use of the township dump were discussed at length in the report of the Highway and Sewer Committee, which report is published in full elsewhere in this issue.

At the conclusion of the meeting upon the suggestion of Mr. Leitch a silent standing tribute was paid by all present to the memory of two former councilmen, one a president of Council, W. R. D. Hall and Perry Redifer.

ROTARY CLUB IN EVENING MEETING

Philadelphia Members Join Balcynar Associates in Program.

TALK CLASSIFICATIONS

With three noted Philadelphia Rotarians present, the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club held its first evening meeting of the fall at the Cynwyd Club Monday. This was also the first evening session presided over by President Guy Croyle.

The meeting dealt with classifications, the basic pattern by which new members are taken into Rotary Clubs. Alvin E. Shull arranged the program, which featured E. Stanley Bowers, past president of the Philadelphia club.

Mr. Bowers made a plea for intelligent use of the classification system. The object in restricting membership to one representative from each craft, he reminded the members, is to secure a cross-section of the business life of the community.

Violation of the strict classification rules, he said, makes a club simply a general body for welfare work. This is not its function. Slow growth, careful choice of members, and proper absorption of new members was his plea.

Care in opening classifications and in filling them was urged by Mr. Bowers. "Members," he said, "must choose men mature in the principles upon which the organization is built. Members should not be selected with any idea of reforming their bad practices."

Preceding Mr. Bowers' talk, short remarks were made by the two other Philadelphia visitors, Dr. George Emerson Barnes, founder of the local club, past district governor, and now at the head of the Philadelphia club. He introduced Gilbert J. Palen, past district governor, who spoke briefly.

Preceding the talk of Mr. Bowers, the classification committee presented its program. The first part of the local program was a postcard-projector lecture on the choosing of bird mascots for members. This was given by Philip A. Livingston, who chose a bird for each member on the basis of name or classification. Some puns were necessary in certain cases.

Horace T. Smedley then manned the lantern, showing baby pictures of the members. His diligence in securing the photos was a source of wonder and surprise to many members, who became suspicious as certain prints repeated on the screen. There was a whispered suspicion that the committee had borrowed someone's family album for the occasion.

Music for the evening was furnished by Walter G. Case, who installed a radio-panatropie combination and a group of records.

AT THE THEATER

"None but the Brave," which opens at the Narberth Theater Friday night with Charles Morton and Sally Phipps, is a riot of beauty and alive with dazzling girls who stage a brilliant pageant in technicolor.

The story is a feature length comedy from the pens of James Gruen and Fred Stanley. Albert Ray, the director, is said to have spared no expense in making his latest production one of the smartest photoplays of the season. The supporting cast is exceptionally good and includes Farrell Macdonald, Tom Kennedy, Billy Butts, Sharon Lynn and Alice Adair.
